

New Calculation Mechanism of Admission Score

To provide candidates with the flexibility in presenting the best combination of scores out of their HKDSE examination results for admission, the University will adopt a “best five subjects approach” (inclusion of Categories A and C subjects; exclusion of Mathematics Extended Part and Category B Applied Learning subjects) with subject weightings in calculating the admission scores from the 2018 intake. The final admissions decisions will be based, after factoring in the subject weightings, on the “best five subjects” that result in the highest weighted admission scores for candidates as illustrated below:

Candidate	HKDSE Results	Score Calculation with Weightings Applied	Best Five Subjects with Highest Weighted Admission Scores
	[Programme A assigns a heavier weighting of 1.5 for Chinese Language and English Language]
X	Chinese Language: Level 4	4 x 1.5	6
	English Language: Level 4	4 x 1.5	6
	Mathematics Compulsory Part: Level 5	5 x 1 3 x 1	5
	Liberal Studies: Level 3	5 x 1	5
	Best Elective: Level 5	4 x 1	4
	2 nd Best Elective: Level 4
	[The highest total weighted admission score is 26]
Y	Chinese Language: Level 3	3 x 1.5	4.5
	English Language: Level 3	3 x 1.5	4.5
	Mathematics Compulsory Part: Level 4	4 x 1 6 x 1	6
	Liberal Studies: Level 5*	7 x 1	7
	Best Elective: Level 5	5 x 1	5
	2 nd Best Elective: Level 5
	[The highest total weighted admission score is 27]
